Feedback on team dynamics

1. How effectively did your team work?

The team worked well together. Both people who worked on the project were helpful and open to discussions. Since we did not know each other before the project, it took us a while to find the right way to work together. However, even when there were doubts about how to proceed with the project, I always felt listened to, understood, and helped. Each part was delivered on the scheduled day, and the meetings were productive. Each of us gave our opinion on each other's work in a polite manner, and criticism was welcomed and discussed further.

2. Were there any behaviours of your team members which were particularly valuable or detrimental to the team?

There was no negative behavior towards any of the participants. As mentioned in the previous question, relationships were always cordial, and even when criticism was necessary, it was expressed politely. One thing in favor of both my colleagues is that they were always willing to help me and answer my questions.

3. What did you learn about working in a team from this project that you will carry into your next group/team experience?

Working in a team has always been one of my greatest fears because I am afraid of being judged and not living up to expectations. Thanks to this project, I had the opportunity to interact with my colleagues and express my opinions, without prejudice. The fact that I had to constantly share my progress, ask questions, and give opinions made me realize how important communication is. Additionally, I learned to be more understanding and listen to others' perspectives. In my next group project, I think I will be able to communicate more clearly and talk about problems as soon as I encounter them. I will also be more flexible and open-minded in my approach.

My greatest strengths as a team member are:

I believe my greatest strengths as a team member are my punctuality and organizational skills. I delivered my part of the project and the subsequent changes on time and arrived punctually for every meeting.

The group work skills I plan to work to improve are:

I would like to improve my ability to express my opinions because sometimes I am afraid of overwhelming others and therefore risk keeping to myself any criticism I may have of their work. This would enable me to assume a leadership role in a project. Additionally, I would like to learn how to improve my active listening skills to integrate my colleagues' advice into my work more efficiently.
